By the [1920s][nbc], commercial radio networks run by the National Broadcasting Corporation (NBC) had become popular. Although the television was invented in the 1930s, it did not take off as factories and materials were diverted for war production. Thus, radio enjoyed two decades as the most popular medium for news and entertainment. These decades are known as the [golden age of radio][golden_age]. After World War II, TV displaced radio in popularity. Radio then served a niche - people on their commute.
In the age of the Internet….

To wit, he said:
>CommonMark hit the ground with a well-defined standard from Day 1 and is set to replace and overtake MarkDown. StackOverFlow.com and other sites have already adopted it.

And, it is true too!
